This exploded view diagram illustrates the assembly of a telephone handset. The components are numbered as follows:

- 10: A small rectangular component, likely a microphone or speaker element, shown being inserted into a slot in the handset body.
- 11: A thin rectangular strip, possibly a gasket or spacer, positioned below component 10.
- 12: A small rectangular component, likely a microphone or speaker element, shown being inserted into a slot in the handset body.
- 13: A thin rectangular strip, possibly a gasket or spacer, positioned below component 12.
- 14: A small rectangular component, likely a microphone or speaker element, shown being inserted into a slot in the handset body.
- 15: A thin rectangular strip, possibly a gasket or spacer, positioned below component 14.
- 17: A thin rectangular strip, possibly a gasket or spacer, positioned below component 15.
- 23: A rectangular component with multiple small rectangular openings, likely a filter or a decorative plate, shown being inserted into a slot in the handset body.
- 25: A small rectangular component, likely a microphone or speaker element, shown being inserted into a slot in the handset body.
- 26: A thin rectangular strip, possibly a gasket or spacer, positioned below component 25.
- 31: A circular component, likely a microphone or speaker element, shown being inserted into a slot in the handset body.

The diagram also shows the handset body with various slots and openings for these components. The handset body is shown in a perspective view, with the handset body and the handset body shown in a perspective view.
